Reclaiming Jesus

On my long car rides to visit my father, I sometimes listen to "Christian" radio stations. They often make me cringe. Much of what is proclaimed is moralistic and judgmental. They employ a literal reading of the Bible without recognition of culture and context. They paint a picture of an angry God who's out to get you. They wag their finger at people who are different.

So I found it refreshing to encounter "Reclaiming Jesus: A Confession of Faith in a Time of Crisis." This document is the work of our presiding bishop, Michael Curry, and Jim Wallis of Sojourners and has been signed by more than 20 Christian leaders. (reclaimingjesus.org) It states plainly what it means to be a follower of Jesus today, and presents a very different Christianity than what one hears in the media.

Here's a summary of Reclaiming Jesus:

"We are living through perilous and polarizing times as a nation, with a dangerous crisis of moral and political leadership at the highest levels of our government and in our churches. We believe the soul of the nation and the integrity of faith are now at stake."

It is time to be followers of Jesus before anything else—nationality, political party, race, ethnicity, gender, geography—our identity in Christ precedes every other identity. We pray that our nation will see Jesus' words in us. 'By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another' (John 13:35).

I. WE BELIEVE each human being is made in God's image and likeness (Genesis 1:26). That image and likeness confers a divinely decreed dignity, worth, and God-given equality to all of us as children of the one God who is the Creator of all things. Racial bigotry is a brutal denial of the image of God (the imago dei) in some of the children of God.

THEREFORE, WE REJECT the resurgence of white nationalism and racism in our nation on many fronts, including the highest levels of political leadership. We, as followers of Jesus, must clearly reject the use of racial bigotry for political gain that we have seen. In the face of such bigotry, silence is complicity.

II. WE BELIEVE we are one body. In Christ, there is to be no oppression based on race, gender, identity, or class (Galatians 3:28). The body of Christ, where those great human divisions are to be overcome, is meant to be an example for the rest of society.

THEREFORE, WE REJECT misogyny, the mistreatment, violent abuse, sexual harassment, and assault of women that has been further revealed in our culture and politics, including our churches, and the oppression of any other child of God.

III. WE BELIEVE how we treat the hungry, the thirsty, the naked, the stranger, the sick, and the prisoner is how we treat Christ himself. (Matthew 25: 31-46) 'Truly I tell you, just as you did it to one of the least of these who are members of my family, you did it to me.'

THEREFORE, WE REJECT the language and policies of political leaders who would debase and abandon the most vulnerable children of God. We strongly deplore the growing attacks on immigrants and refugees, who are being made into cultural and political targets, and we need to remind our churches that God makes the treatment of the 'strangers' among us a test of faith (Leviticus 19:33-34).

IV. WE BELIEVE that truth is morally central to our personal and public lives. Truth-telling is central to the prophetic biblical tradition, whose vocation includes speaking the Word of God into their societies and speaking the truth to power.

THEREFORE, WE REJECT the practice and pattern of lying that is invading our political and civil life.

V. WE BELIEVE that Christ's way of leadership is servanthood, not domination.

THEREFORE, WE REJECT any moves toward autocratic political leadership and authoritarian rule. We believe authoritarian political leadership is a theological danger that threatens democracy and the common good.

VI. WE BELIEVE Jesus when he tells us to go into all nations making disciples (Matthew 28:18). Our churches and our nations are part of an international community whose interests always surpass national boundaries.

THEREFORE, WE REJECT 'America first' as a theological heresy for followers of Christ. While we share a patriotic love for our country, we reject xenophobic or ethnic nationalism that places one nation over others as a political goal.

WE ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED for the soul of our nation, but also for our churches and the integrity of our faith. The present crisis calls us to go deeper—deeper into our relationship to God; deeper into our relationships with each other, especially across racial, ethnic, and national lines; deeper into our relationships with the most vulnerable, who are at greatest risk."

That is just a summary of "Reclaiming Jesus" (reclaimingjesus.org). I HIGHLY encourage you to read it in its entirety. We must always remember that we are followers of Jesus before anything else. These six statements of belief give us a roadmap.

Peace,
Bill Van Oss
Rector

Join CHUM in celebrating the 2018 Rhubarb Festival on Saturday, June 23, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at 1100 London Road and inside First Lutheran Church. There will be tasty rhubarb treats for sale in the bake sale area, an indoor and an outdoor coffee shop, food booths, children's activities, a climbing wall, a naturescape obstacle course, a stage show and lots more!

This year they are greatly expanding their raffle opportunities, rather than having a silent auction. St. Paul's will put together a basket for the Rhubarb Festival's raffle. Please consider donating an item for our basket. For more information contact Jane Jarnis.

RHUBARB FESTIVAL BAKING

CHUM Rhubarb Festival is June 23rd and St. Paul's will be baking scones, breads & cakes as a contribution to this fundraiser. Our rhubarb scones have become quite a popular sales item and we've been asked to bake more than the nearly 300 we baked last year!! New for this year will be rhubarb cakes in addition to the bread we have made in the past. Our investment of $200 in supplies nets about $1,500 of income for CHUM. In addition, it is just a great time for our church family to work together on this fundraising project!!

Please consider donating time, baking supplies or cash for ingredients. Any amount of help would be great! Even if baking isn't your thing, bagging, labeling, cleanup are all much appreciated! Please contact Sue Brown at 349-4283 or Jane Jarnis at 464-0543 with any questions. Lunch will be provided on Thursday, June 21st.

LADIES' GUILD GIVES SUPPER

First Social Gathering for Men at
 St. Paul's Episcopal Church
 Takes Place.

100 MEN MEMBERS
 OF CHURCH ATTEND

W. J. Olcott, Toastmaster, Hopes
 Activities Will Extend Over
 Seven Days Instead of One.

The first social gathering for men at the new St. Paul's Episcopal church, a supper given last evening by the Ladies' guild of the church, was attended by about 100 men of the congregation. Supper was served by 20 of the guild members, at five tables, decorated with spring flowers and candles, each table in a different shade.

William J. Olcott who acted as toastmaster during the smoker which followed the supper, and in his introductory talk that, now that the splendid new building opened opportunities, the activity of the church as an organization should be extended over seven days instead of one, and so increase sevenfold.

George A. St. Clair paid a graceful tribute to the women of the guild for their hospitality in inaugurating the social life of the church and taking the first steps to make it a living influence in the community. He also spoke in terms of praise of the men whose generous zeal had made possible the building of the new church.

Dr. A. W. Ryan characterized modern Christianity as the union of work for one's fellowman with spiritual worship, and spoke of the increased sense of individual responsibility for the community, which is the keynote of the new century. With a strong and efficient organization of both men and women, he said, St. Paul's could hope to do much, not only for its members, but for the community as well.

A luncheon for women of the congregation given in January was the first of the social gatherings at the new church, and other affairs of a similar nature will be given with the completion of the church building.

Senior Reflections—May 6, 2018

Emily Hanna

Happy Sunday Everyone!

Thank you for the opportunity to talk to all of you today. I am so humbled to be able to say that I am part of the St. Paul's congregation. Not only because of all the amazing opportunities it has given me but also for being a full hearted and welcoming place to be. As memories are flowing through my brain I think about all the amazing people supporting me and my journey through faith.

Since the day I walked through the big red doors and found out that the priest was my softball coach I was excited to stay. I loved Sunday School and growing up it was a saying between my family and I that it was called "fun" day school. I have always been proud to call St. Paul's my home. Even when my world was constantly changing; St. Paul's has always been a constant and that is something I am forever grateful for.

Earlier this year I had the joy of writing multiple essays for colleges and scholarships. A constant question was how has service impacted my life? Every time I brought it back to St. Paul's and all the times we made take care kits, tied blankets, made meals, and learned how important service is. Because of the experiences like Hands Across Duluth, the Episcopal Youth Event, the Youth Leadership Team, poverty tours, and multiple other events I have learned that serving is key to a better future.

I remember the one time in middle school where we spent a day at Safe Haven assembling two rooms for teenagers staying at the home. Even if it was only a coat of paint and a new bedspread; it was easy to see what a difference our youth could make on a community.

Continuing, After attending the WE Day event with the congregation I remember thinking about how St. Paul's can help our community. Through Hands Across Duluth I remember touring different organizations in Duluth and seeing the lack of food at the CHUM food shelf. Then I had the idea to do a food drive at church. With the amazing help of Sue, and other youth we were able to have our first food drive raising 5,000 items and dollars to CHUM. I was never so proud to be a part of congregation that will never stop helping and contributing to our community.

Once again and over and over; thank you for all your support in the community and your support in the youth; including myself here at St. Paul's. I have loved serving the church at different events, Youth Leadership Team, acolyting, nursery and more.

Because of my love for service gained here at church I was selected for the Engaged Citizen Corps Program. I will be serving 300 hours to better the Des Moines community while attending Drake University to study Public Administration and Law, Politics, and Society. Thank you for the gracious scholarship to help me with my education endeavors.

I am so excited to continue learning and hopefully continue my faith by partaking in service missions and of course; coming back home for more insert exaggerated adjective sermons.

I am assured that I will be supported and loved in my journey because of the extraordinary love and support I have gotten here at St. Paul's from my parents, friends, Sunday School Teachers, prayer partners, and everyone else. Thank you for being a continuous home that is always welcoming.

Izzy Sutherland

First and foremost, I would like to start off by saying that I am extremely grateful for everything that St. Paul's has given me throughout my life. Ever since my first day of children's church, I have felt such a strong sense of community around me. Every member of this church has shown me that I am supported through all my endeavors, whether it be singing in the kids choir, playing piano in the Shrove Tuesday talent show, or going through the process of confirmation and being confirmed.

One of my first memories from St. Paul's happened at the Shrove Tuesday talent show. It may be vague- I was two and a half- but I always enjoy hearing a recap. I stood proudly in my blue princess dress, singing the national anthem. Although I was a normally shy child, I smiled and bounced around rambunctiously, loving the applause of the crowd.

The sense of community started to grow as soon as I began Children's Church. I was finally old enough not to go in the nursery anymore. Instead, I got to learn about God. The leaders of Children's Church made it fun, and I couldn't wait to get to Sunday school. Sunday school was never boring, as there were always cool activities in the themed rooms on the fourth floor of the church. I joined the children's choir, and would always look forward to singing in front of the church. Next, I found out I was old enough to go through acolyte training. I was so excited for this. I got to wear a cool robe! But more importantly, I got to feel like I was truly a part of the service. I remember being so nervous the first time I acolyted. I was petrified that I would mess up. But I was met with smiles from the choir and deacons, and that put me at ease. After acolyting, the next milestone for me was confirmation. Getting to church early on Sundays never felt like a chore. Sure, some of this might have been because there were donuts, but part of it was because classes were taught in an engaging way that strengthened my belief and connection with the church. Never, throughout all my years at St. Paul's, have I felt like I didn't have people cheering for me, wanting me to succeed. That is such an incredible feeling, and I am very grateful for that.

Now, St. Paul's is supporting my next endeavor- attending college. I am extremely honored to be a recipient of the church's scholarship. It will do so much to help as I attend Barrett Honors College in Arizona this coming year. It is a huge comfort to know that I am being supported from home, by the community that I have grown up with, even when I am 1800 miles away.

Now, there are a few people in specific I would like to thank for their role in my life these past years.

I would like to thank Mrs. Sue, for everything she does for the kids and the church. Sue, your organizational skills are incredible and I don't know how you do everything you do so well, but this church would not be the same without you. The programs in place for kids to grow in faith are amazing, and their success is all thanks to you.

I would like to thank Father Bill, for never failing to make sermons interesting. When I was little, I loved listening to the laughter during the sermon. A lot of times, I would not completely understand the joke you made, but I remember thinking that it was really cool you could make people laugh that much. As I grew up, I started to understand the jokes more. I thank you for your engaging, meaningful, and insightful sermons that have increased my understanding of Christianity.

I would like to thank Buffy for volunteering her time to teach confirmation classes. I don't know if we were always the easiest group to deal with, but you made confirmation interesting and engaging, and supported us through the whole way.

I would like to thank Barb for always greeting me with a smile. You always asked me about hockey, running, and school, genuinely showing me you cared.

I would like to thank Ms. Sherry Hall for being my prayer partner these past few years. It is always so comforting to know that I have someone praying for me. Know that even when I am away these next couple years, I will continue to pray for you.

To conclude, I just want to extend my thanks to the community of St. Paul's. You have supported me through my whole life, and it is thanks to you all that I have become the person I am today. I thank you for the support of the scholarship that will aid in my future endeavors. I will never stop thinking of St. Paul's as a safe place and second home to me. Thank you.

Nora Vos

Growing up in Saint Paul's it has always been clear to me that community comes first. When you have extra, you share. It's just the right thing to do. Giving seems to come naturally to everyone here. That's the culture that is nurtured. I wish that more of the world worked this way. The people here have taught me that no act of kindness, no matter how small, is ever wasted. I love that saying and I think it's super important as it applies to everyone. It doesn't take a lot to make a difference in your community or even to one individual. Everything helps.

Another aspect that I value about the aura of this church is that the people here go out into the world with the intention of helping not just recruiting. The goal is never just to get more people to come to church. It is always the main focus to spread love, to volunteer and be there for others simply because it is the right thing to do. To me this is universal energy. Church is not about the number of parishioners in the building on any given Sunday; Church is reaching out to everyone with no discrimination or judgement. Taking action to shape the lives of others. Quality not quantity.

The presence of youth has always been valued in the church community. Although there are few of us our opinions are always taken into consideration and we are given countless opportunities to be heard and speak at various events.

An aspect of the church that I have always valued is the ability to ask questions. In fact, growing up here we were encouraged to ask questions. Unlike other places, even school occasionally, we are not penalized or given a dirty look when we question an idea. I think that shows a lot of strength and confidence in the people here. I think that's the true definition of Faith.

Growing up here I've always felt encouraged to keep pursuing music, specifically singing. I was welcomed to sing during the talent show, invited to sing at the Christmas Eve services, and be a part of the children's choir. This positivity and response from others helped me gain confidence in myself as a singer and a person. It gave me chances to put myself on the spot and learn to memorize and hear pitch. I attribute a lot of my musical drive to Saint Paul's because the people here always made me feel like I had something worth practicing for.

As I move forward from high school and through my life I will undoubtedly continue to grow and change. I will be attending the University of Minnesota this fall with the intended major of Environmental Sciences. Thank you so much for your generous contribution to my future. The people I've met and the experiences I have had here as a part of this church will come into my decision making and shape me throughout my life. I am grateful that I have this congregation as a part of my background, and I know that, no matter where I go, Saint Paul's will always be here with open arms.

CONGRATULATIONS ALSO TO KELLYN MCKEE WHO GRADUATED FROM MARSHALL SCHOOL.
